bite of 87 based on the game/history of five nights at freddys

I have a horrible memory of what happened during 1987, as if do you wonder what a childs favorite charecter does around them? Well I have the answer to that. Im not the one who was injured luckly. I wonder how he survived it losing the front lobe of his brain? I heard they disarmed them all four of them forever at least I hope they did. Wonder what they did to that freakshow of decaying metal?

January 26, 1987

Its a crisp yet cold morning im in a car with my friend Dillon its his birthday his mother said were going to have his birthday at this new pizza joint in town called freddy fazbears pizzaria and hes turning 9 years old. We arrive at the place and gives me a chill running down my spine and its not the wind blowing on me. We walk in the pizzaria like snowman coming in from a blizzard trying to warm up. And I look around theres kid laughing mothers and fathers are sitting like dead corpses ready for a zombies fancy dinner party. A horrible stench grabs my nose and its coming from the animatronic band i say, "they smell like dead corpses." Me and Dillon laugh or heads off I wiped off a tear still giggling from my joke. Dillon responded, "lets have pizza!" I scarfed mine down in seconds then sat back and belched looking quite stuffed like those animatronics I laughed at my thought then the four animatronics Freddy, Bonnie, Chica and Foxy walked off their platforms walking to kids tables asking stuff like how's the pizza or wanna play tag. I joined with Dillon we were running and giggling while foxy chasing us around the restraurant saying, "im gonna getcha!" I was exhausted watching Dillon still laughing watching Dillon running from foxy I decided to use the restroom going into the dark abyss hallway I saw a big note posted on the wall it said,

"due to the very uncleanliness of this restraurant by law will be shut down due to a mother noticing blood and mucus in the eye and mouth area police say it could lead to the five missing children mystery the mystery happened when the murderer was wearing a freddy suit leading the childern to there death police noted that one of the workers havnt cleaned the gang for years so it lead to the murderer to STUFF the childeren in the suits." I was shocked in fear staying still as a corpse its self with a ghostly skin tone and just staring in awe. I heard footsteps coming from the hall THUD THUD THUD THUD THUD it kept coming THUD THUD THUD I waited to see what happened THUD THUD THUD THUD! Turned out it was only a worker he asked me, "what are you doing here you should be where the partys at!" He had a friendly smile on his face I responded quite dryly, "i-i was just going to the restroom." even though now i didnt need no more of this mystery stuff. Walking back to the party room i decided to forget about someone must've put a prank there. Must've.

So I ran around with Dillon while foxy was chasing us again I stopped and he chased after Dillon i heard a squeal come from the same area I thought foxy must've caught Dillon something was wrong parents were everywhere by foxy my mom was there and grabbed my arm and rushed me to the car I looked back at foxy a red liquid was dripping from his mouth and he said to me, "im gonna getcha ya!"
